OU Holds Speech Clinic for High School Teachers

High school students and speech coaches from Omaha and Council Bluffs are participating in a three-day speech contest clinic at the University.

According to Bruce Linton, radio and speech professor, the clinic is being offered so that the students and their instructors may have professional advice about their material and presentation before the winter contest season begins.

Librarians Speak

The clinic started at 3:30 p. m. yesterday with a general assembly. Librarians Frank Gibson and Kilbourn Janacek spoke on "Library Help for Debators and Discussers." One round of debate and discussion followed.

Two rounds are scheduled for 3:30 and 4:30 p. m. today.

Dramatics Discuss

At 9 a. m. tomorrow, Dr. Edwin L. Clark, dramatics professor, and Kendrick Wilson, director of the Omaha Community Playhouse, will conduct a panel on one-act play production.

James McGaffin, news editor of Radio Station WOW, Phil Allen of KOIL and Linton will discuss preparation of news broadcasts at 10 a. m. The final round of debate and discussion will be at 11. A general discussion period concerning problems of speech contests will be held at the same time.

Awards will be presented to winners in various contests at noon. A luncheon and dance from 12:30 to 2 p. m. will follow in the Student Center. Music for dancing will be furnished through campus radio station KWOU.

Applied Arts Offers Home Ec-Journalism

The College of Applied Arts and Sciences is offering a new program in home economics-journalism. Miss Margaret Killian, home economics adviser, said that the program is being arranged "to keep up with the demand for girls who can write and who also have a good background in home economics."

The four-year course includes classes in foods, clothing, interior decoration, nutrition, home management and child care. Journalism courses include news writing and editing, radio news writing, reporting of public affairs, advertising, research, feature writing and photography.

Classes in speech, radio and television broadcasting, humanities, English, psychology, physical education and government complete the four-year course.

Advisers for the course are Miss Killian and Clifford Ellis, head of the journalism department.

City Post Office Jobs Interest 58

Placement Director John Woods reported that 158 applications for jobs in the Omaha Post Office have been turned in. He estimated that 42 applicants had not turned in information.

The applications were sent to the Omaha Postmaster Monday. The rest will be turned in before Dec. 1.

Applicants for post office jobs during Christmas vacation must be 18 or over, a United States citizen, and physically capable of work. Ineligibility for jobs includes students who are working for the government, are receiving government retirement pay or are in military service. Employment is limited from Dec. 1 to Dec. 31.

Blumer Announces Beauty Candidates

Candidates for the Tomahawk Beauty Contest have been announced by Derelle Blumer, chairman of the annual event. The contest will be Tuesday, Dec. 9, in the auditorium.

Five organizations have nominated thirty girls. Three unaffiliated coeds also have been nominated.

Candidates are:

Alpha Xi Delta: Marianne Bowley, Delores Rigg, Josephine Ruma, Dorothy Seig, Ruth Waschneit and Joan Willey.

Chi Omega: Corinne Houser, Joan Clawson, Elinor DeWitt, Janet Brace, Dona Wells and Shirley Kurtz.

Independents: Bernie Raymond, Sharon Knowles, Nancy Bodnar, Elaine Morgan, Mary Richardson and Dorothy Myers.

Sigma Kappa: Coral Lee Budatz, Dorothy Trayner, Barbara Pugh, Edwina Hokanson, Patty Sue DuVall and Virginia Cline.

Zeta Tau Alpha: Sally Renna, Jean Madden, Pat Kavan, Carol Bell, Norma Cooper and Connie Eade.

Unaffiliated: Arlene Meyer, Diane Cooper and Gloria Cohen.

Sororities Place In Display Contest

Three sororities won places in the Homecoming display contest last weekend.

First place went to Sigma Kappa with the slogan "Toast the Tigers—Toast the Alums." A revolving turntable showed two pictures. The "student" side was a tiger in a toaster with knife and butter waiting. The "alum" side depicted a champagne glass, corage box and ashtray.

Chi Omega won second place with the circus theme of "Tame the Tigers." Third place went to Alpha Xi Delta's kitchen theme of "Howdy, Alums—Doane's Done."

Mrs. Schmidt Will Speak at Kiwanis Club Lunch Today; OU Class Officers Attend

Mrs. Helen Schmidt, hostess in the Omaha University student lounge, will speak on "Why I Am Thankful to Be in America" on the Thanksgiving program this noon at the downtown Kiwanis Club meeting.

Mrs. Schmidt is a displaced person from the village of Toere, Hungary. In 1945, she was forced to make the choice between Communist oppression and freedom.

Her family and a few friends escaped to Austria in a covered wagon and on foot, at one time actually crawling through the barbed wire of the Iron Curtain.

Her first job after her escape was as an interpreter in the British Civil Liaison Office in Austria and Germany. Mrs. Schmidt speaks or understands Hungarian, German, French, Slavik, Bohemian, Polish and English.

She was brought to the United States by the Benson Presbyterian Church with her husband and son, "Believe" and "have faith" are the strength of her determination to find security and happiness in the United States. Mrs. Schmidt has helped to find sponsors for over 100 families from her homeland, who now live in America.

Omaha Clubs Hear Panel of Americans

"How can the relations between the different races and religions be strengthened?" "What can young people do?"

These and other questions that arise when race and religion are discussed are viewed by the Panel of Americans. This panel consists of one member of the Catholic, Protestant and Jewish religions and the Negro race. A fifth member is the moderator, who acts as a intermediary between the audience and the panel.

Each speaker introduces himself both as an individual and as a member of a particular racial or religious group. The audience then asks questions of a certain member which the whole group tries to answer.

OU's panel was started last spring on an informal basis by J. D. Tyson, head of the speech department who picked interested members from his speech class. More students and faculty members became interested in it this year, and there are now eleven students and four moderators. A faculty advisory committee has also been set up consisting of Dean Jay MacGregor, chairman, Tyson, Robert McGranahan, May Burchard, Harry Rice and Philip Allen.

Senior members of the panel are Tom Burke, Hugo Kahn, Millicent Wheeler and Hank Giles.

Moderators are Harry Rice, George Wilber, Miss Ellen Lord, and Tyson.

So far this year the Panel has appeared before the First Presbyterian Church, Ralston Women's Club and the North Side Women's Club. Future engagements include the Jewish Community Center, young people at the Lutheran Chruch, and will be featured in the Omaha U. Thanksgiving Convocation Wednesday morning without audience participation.

The first of a series of Student Center dinners will be held Tuesday night in the Center. A smorgasbord from 5 to 7 p. m. is open to all University students, faculty, staff and friends.

Tickets are $1. Reservations must be made in the cafeteria before Monday night.

Harlan Cain, director of food service, promises "lots of good food." Dancing to the jukebox will follow the dinner.

Freshmen Will Select Revue Talent Monday

The second annual Freshman Talent Revue will be presented at 9:30 a. m. Dec. 3 in the auditorium. Cast tryouts will be held at 7 p. m. Monday in the auditorium. Dr. Edwin L. Clark, faculty sponsor of the show, will direct tryouts.

Freshman class officers and student council representatives will judge the Freshman talent. Judges will be Dick Matthews, Don Shroeder, and Rae Johnson, class officers; and Mary Cosford, Mary Jane Jeter, Kyle Petit, and Gary Luse, Council members.

Don Pflasterer, associate dean of students, Dr. Robert Fiester, assistant professor of music; and Dr. Clark will also help with the judging.

All freshmen are invited to try out. The variety show will include singers, solos and groups, short skirts, dancers, musical instrumental solos, pantomime, and others.

Group Studies Library Plans

Members of the library planning committee have been studying plans of libraries all over the country in an effort to find the best possible library for the OU campus." The statement came from Dr. Robert Harper, chairman of the committee.

According to Dr. Harper, the library will incorporate "the best features of other recently constructed libraries." The planners are seeking "maximum flexibility" for the structure. Dr. Harper explained that this flexibility will minimize the need for permanent partitions and allow for any growth in the student body.

The committee was organized in mid-September and includes, in addition to the chairman, Miss Ellen Lord, Jack Adwers, Charles Hoff, Dr. Wilfred Payne and Dr. Donald G. Emery.

The members are working closely with John Latenser, architect. Latenser's firm designed and built both the main building and the University Fieldhouse.

In addition to studying the plans of some 40 libraries, members have also visited the campuses of Kansas State Teachers College at Emporia, Kans., the University of Iowa at Iowa City, and Bradley University, Peoria, Ill.

Navy Lieutenant To Visit Campus

Navy Lt. C. B. Stone will be in the OU Student Center Monday from 9 a. m. to noon to discuss the Naval Aviation Cadet program with interested students.

Lieutenant Stone, who is stationed at the U. S. Naval Air Station in Lincoln, will furnish the students with information concerning the requirements for admittance, pay and training.

To be eligible for the program, students must have completed sixty semester hours, be between the ages of 18 and 27 and be physically qualified. The program lasts about 18 months.

Upon graduation from the training program, a cadet would be eligible for either a Navy or Marine Reserve commission as an ensign.

ROTC Riflemen Win Postal Match

The University of Omaha's Air Force ROTC rifle team won its first postal match from the University of Connecticut by 62 points.

Out of a possible 2,000 points, OU scored 1,848 to Connecticut's 1,786. James Ryan fired 381 out of a possible 400 for high man honors.

The OU rifle team will fire against such Universities as Wisconsin, Ohio Wesleyan, and Lawrence College of Wisconsin next semester.

Students Travel to Debate Tournaments

Twenty Omaha University debaters will travel over 1,000 miles within the next three weeks to represent OU in three debate tournaments.

Students who will participate in the University of Nebraska's tournament next Tuesday are Beatrice Hansen, Shirley Barnum, Glen Uhe, Mary Cosford, Ken Bauer, Arlyss Welch, Marie Jipp and Jean Bednar. Sharon Erdkamp, Theodore Romberg and Duane Post will act as judges at the Nebraska tournament.

Professors Bruce Linton, J. D. Tyson and Hedwig Nyholm will accompany debaters to East Oklahoma State Teachers College and Wayne State Teachers College on Dec. 5 and 6.

Students placing high in tryouts last week, and who will attend one of the two tournaments include Post, Miss Erdkamp, Romberg, Miss Bednar, Miss Welch, Miss Jipp, Edward Briley, Donald Blauw, Robert Dahlhoff, Beatrice Larson and Miss Hansen.

Alternates chosen are Henry Hofferber, Mary Cosford and Glen Uhe.

Payne Will Address Meeting in Kansas

Dr. Wilfred Payne, chairman of the OU humanities department, will speak today at the Kansas Wesleyan University Founders Day convocation, at Salina, Kans.

Dr. Payne will also speak to a group of university faculty members this afternoon on "Curriculum Revision in Liberal Arts Colleges." He will return to Omaha Sunday.

German Journalists Tour School Campus

Two women journalists from Germany visited the OU campus Tuesday afternoon. They were taken on a short tour of the University, visiting the departments of art, student publications and radio.

The pair, Miss Imogen Segur and Miss Anneliese Steinhoff, both of Munich, Germany, are guests of the YWCA while in Omaha.

Both are free lance writers and have worked on the women's page for the Neus Zeitung in Munich. They were surprised to learn that the Omaha World-Herald has a daily women's page—their paper printed a women's page only once or twice a month.

Of American newspapers, the two were amazed with the speed at which journalists work and of the "wide open spaces" of newspaper offices.

Before returning to Europe, the journalists will visit Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago.

They are touring the United States under the auspices of the Exchange Persons Program and have thus far visited New York City, Washington, D. C., and Atlanta, Georgia.

The two explained they would rather spend six months instead of three in making the trip. "This is a typical American tour—we're always in a rush," laughed Miss Steinhoff.

They plan to return to Munich to write of their trip. Their adventures will be written from "strictly" a woman's point of view as both are interested in women's activities and in legislation pertaining to women.

While visiting a University ceramics class, Miss Segur discussed differences between European and American art. She noted that American artists complete their work in a relative short time, whereas European artists spend years on just one project.

Both were surprised at the large collection of paintings for a school the size of OU.

In visiting the radio department, they were impressed by the technical equipment and the practical training students receive.

The journalists studied copies of the Gateway and Tomahawk in the Publications offices. Editing procedures were explained by Gateway staff members.

While in the U. S. the pair have been aware of and pleased at the wide use of color in men's clothing. In Germany men's clothes are drab and businesslike.

Fore Library Offers Fiction

By Kay Julian

Have you ever been in the Fore Room, Do you ever read books other than textbooks? Did you even know that there are other books besides those in the main library?

It's surprising how many people have to say "no" to these questions.

Someday, when you decide to go out to the shack to spend your idle time in idle talk, why not go instead to the Fore Memorial Library on the third floor and see what there is to see.

In the Fore Room there are books for co-eds only and men only, besides books on science, ideals, the arts and various types of fiction.

The girls may learn how to stay thin, win their man or how to dance the "Birdie in the Cage."

Books for men range from hunting and fishing to draft deferment.

There is also a shelf marked "news," and that is just what it means—books published in 1952. Why spend 75 cents for a movie when you may read the original manuscript for nothing?

"If you learn to read you can handle anything," says Frank Gibson, OU librarian.

Visit the Fore library today in Room 318 and discover what you are missing.

Paul Beck, 1943 graduate of the University, in answer to a survey of students returning or not returning to school to "finish up," said: "I'll continue working in the business office, and I want to take advantage of the accelerated program so that I can get my degree."

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

Last Saturday at OU's Homecoming football game, something happened which left a very bitter taste in the mouths of many students, fans and TV viewers. That something was that Dr. Ball chose to talk so long during the half-time ceremonies that the traditional chant had to be cancelled. The program had been planned to the minute, and all persons concerned had been warned to keep within their time limits.

It is especially unfortunate because the University administration has always bludgeoned the student body with the policy that "the University can make no progress unless the students show school spirit." I, and many other students, have worked to promote this very thing.

We have "tried" to build such things as this chant into traditions—which the University so sadly lacks. So far we have only a brick building, without the traditions which bind students, faculty and administration together.

We can only hope that, in the future, this sort of thing will not happen again—and that the administration will help rather than hinder the progress for which we are fighting.

Ross Sprains Ankle

Although Jim Ross, master of ceremonies for the Alumni dance Saturday, sprained his ankle and was unable to "M.C." the evening's program was not dropped.

Don Hammond, owner of an Omaha nightclub, provided a musical trio, the Silhouettes, who sang and danced for the alumni entertainment.

'Belles' Ring Wedding Bells

Marriage and Homecoming seem to have something in common. Charlotte Longville, better known to her friends as Chuckie, is following the lines of the last two Homecoming Princesses. She will say her marriage vows on Thanksgiving evening.

Jean Duncan, acting alumni secretary and Princess in '50, will marry student Ralph Pettit the night before Thanksgiving. Jacqueline Zerbe, last year's Homecoming Princess, will be married during the Christmas holidays.

Miss Longville, 21-year-old senior, will marry Dick Alberti, a member of the U. S. Engineers, in an informal ceremony next Thursday evening. She plans to finish college and will receive her bachelor degree in education in June.

When asked how it felt to become Omaha U's Homecoming Princess, Miss Longville remarked, "I was speechless and very happy. During the intermission at the dance, I thought that we would never arrive on the stage. The suspense was killing me."

"When we won the Homecoming game the next day, it made the weekend complete," she added.

Chuckie's activities at the University include membership in Alpha Xi Delta sorority. She has served as social chairman and marshal. She was a member of the Student Council and served as secretary for a year.

Safe Till '53

If you have a 25 draft deferment, it's likely that the board won't bother you till the end of this year.

Selective Service officials say the manpower situation will be adequate till June. But next year there will be a manpower shortage which may make it necessary to draft men under 19.

Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey said two weeks ago that tighter regulations are due which would "reduce the number in college whose military service has been deferred."

Join the folks for a pleasant holiday and the traditional turkey dinner. You'll find Greyhound's convenient schedules will fit right into your plans—and don't worry about your budget—just . . .

OU Cagers Hold First Scrimmage

Yelkin Stresses 'All Spots Open'

"A scrimmage with Midland College on the OU Fieldhouse floor yesterday afternoon was the turning point for Indian cage men," according to Coach Virgil Yelkin.

The scrimmage temporarily placed the boys in A and B squads. Yelkin stated that this does not cinch positions. Throughout the season boys will move from B to A, and A to B.

The OU coach is still stressing fundamentals. The boys are working on ball handling, footwork and defense. Lettermen and rookies alike will continue working in this fashion, and will not get plays until they have perfected fundamentals.

Howard Baker, Tony Roth, Aksel Schmidt, Bob Rose, Tom Bell and Larry Johnson are gridmen who have reported late for cage drills. These boys will be given additional time, so that they will have an equal opportunity to show their abilities.

Intra-squad competition is rough, and the cage men face a tough schedule. According to Yelkin, the positions are still wide open. He plans to carry ten to 12 boys on the road, and 12 to 15 at home games.

The Indians first real test will come Nov. 26, when they meet the Alumni.

One of Yelkin's biggest problems at present is student managers. With only two weeks remaining until the opening game, the team still lacks managers.

Anyone interested in the job is asked to contact Yelkin in his Fieldhouse office.

Statistics . . .

The scoring statistics reveal that Omaha U. amassed a total of 159 points while its opponents were held to 88 points.

The Indians averaged 17.67 points per game as they limited their foes to a 9.78 clip.

Sig Eps Capture '52 Mural Football Title

A new intramural football champ was crowned last Thursday when Sigma Phi Epsilon downed the AF-ROTC by penitration.

The Sig Ep's have an impressive record for the season as they finished with an undefeated and unscorched slate. They had six wins and no losses and rolled up a season's total of 95 points, while holding their opponents scoreless.

Turning point in the season for the Sig Ep's came when they defeated last year's champs, Pi Kappa Alpha. The win broke the tie between the two clubs for first place in the league and enabled the Sig Ep's to hold sole possession of the top spot.

The league was a close race all the way since an ROTC win over the Sig Ep's would have thrown the race into a three-way tie for first place, with ROTC, Pi Kappa Alpha and the Sig Ep's sharing the league lead.

Time and again the Air Force team displayed great goal line stands as they stopped the Sig Ep's from scoring in the final game.

ROTC threatened in the first half to score but an intercepted pass stopped their threat. The second half was played mostly inside the Air Force fifty-yard stripe, as the Sig Ep's were constantly trying to tally.

In the extra period, the Sig Ep's won by 60 yards penetration. A pass from Tom Mosiman to Bob Moscley, who lateraled to Lee Nelson, cover sixty yards and gave the Sig Ep's the win.

A pass interception by Sig Ep's John Cottrell stopped the ROTC chances of winning in the penetration period.

Pi Kappa Alpha hammered out a 38 to 0 victory over Lambda Chi in mural football Tuesday afternoon.

Doane Wins Gives Indians, Cardwell Victorious Record

By Lee Nelson.

With the 27-0 victory over Doane College last Saturday, Omaha U's grid squad presented Coach Lloyd Cardwell with a winning season of five wins and four losses.

The Homecoming win also gave Cardy a personal record of 26-25 and one tie in his tenure as OU head football mentor.

Nebraska Wesleyan provided the opposition for the opening game of the year and the Indians continued their mastery over the Lincoln school with a 14-7 margin.

The Omahans then traveled to Sioux City on Sept. 27 and lost a heartbreaker to Morningside, 21-14.

After trailing in the initial part of the game, the Indians rallied for a 14-14 halftime deadlock. However, the Maroons put on a last half defensive show to ice the game.

Omaha returned home the next week to gain revenge over Washburn University by a 19-0 bulge. The outcome was never in doubt as the Red and Black took an early lead on a chilly Saturday afternoon.

Migration Day found OU in Vermillion facing a tough South Dakota U. eleven. Again the Indians lacked a second half scoring punch and the Coyotes rolled to a 27-13 triumph.

Emporia (Kans.) State scored on the first two plays of the game and made the lone score stand up as Omaha lost its second straight road game, 7-6, on the following Saturday.

Omaha U. returned to its home grounds on Oct. 25 to batter Knox College from Galesburg, Ill., 20-0. OU wrapped up the tilt in a hurry scoring all three touchdowns in a big first half.

Northern Illinois State continued to be the main nemesis on the Omaha schedule with a 20-6 win at DeKalb.

The Omahans have yet to beat the Illinois crew either at home or away.

Basketball Ticket Drive Under Way

OU Football Squad Trims Doane, 27-0

By Charlie Rice

OU gridmen made Homecoming a success when they trounced Doane College 27-0 last Saturday afternoon.

The win enabled Cardwell's crew to finish the season with a better than .500 mark. The Indian crew ended the season with five wins and four losses.

The game was the last college fray for six OU seniors as they will graduate in June. The six are: Aksel Schmidt, Bob Rose, Ernie Lee, Jim Spencer, Larry Johnson, team captain for the year, and Keith Christie, OU's leading ground gainer for the past two years.

A fumble on the kickoff proved costly for Doane as the Indians capitalized on the error and scored. Aksel Schmidt drove over from the two-yard line to score for the Indians. Schmidt also booted the extra point.

The Indians tallied another quick touchdown at the start of the second quarter. With the ball on the Doane seven-yard line, Keith Christie went over left tackle for the TD. Schmidt made it two in a row as he converted the extra point.

The rest of the half the game was a see-saw affair with OU on the Doane goal line when the half ended.

After the intermission Doane put up a stiff defense and stopped the Indians from scoring in the third period.

But Omaha scored again just as the fourth quarter started. Jerry Lawson recovered a Doane fumble to set up the third OU score.

A clipping penalty against Doane put the ball on the four-yard line where Schmidt went over tackle to score his second touchdown of the day. On the try for extra point, Schmidt's boot was blocked.

Student Groups Initiate Selling

Basketball enthusiasm around the campus is on the up-grade as ticket sales for the home games have begun. This year's starting five should have a crowd behind them if the promises of campus clubs prove true.

Harvey Vogler, director of season sales, opened the kickoff drive for this campaign with a meeting of sorority, fraternity and independent members Tuesday. The necessary application blanks and informational date were distributed to the groups.

There will be no competition between the organizations with the exception of the 50 cents commission for each season ticket sold. The suggestion for a king and queen of basketball was voted down by the Student Council.

Students which aren't affiliated with any organization can become temporarily attached to one for the duration of the drive. No student will receive the 50-cent commission, it must go to the treasury of the individual clubs.

The tickets sell for $10 per book. This admits the purchaser to 13 home games at a saving of $6.25. Athletic Director Virg Yelkin made a plea to the student body for support in this drive.

"We have 500 tickets to sell. If every student would sell just one season ticket, we would be way over our goal. The drive is designed to promote the welfare of the school and its student organizations as well as an aid to basketball."

grabbed their last touchdown. Starting on their own forty, the Indians drove to Doane's seven, where Christie scored another touchdown when he went over tackle for the tally.

A Jerry Welling to Don Masey pass and runs by Bahensky and Welling aided in the sixty-yard march to Doane's goal. In the try for the extra point, Cardwell used his new find as Larry Johnson made the extra point to put OU out in front 27-0.

Art Club Presents Rush Tea For 60 Interested Students

Mrs. Jay B. MacGregor and Mrs. Milo Ball were hostesses at the Art Club rush tea Tuesday. Approximately sixty guests attended the tea in the faculty club room.

Phil Abramson, chairman of the "Brush and Easel," welcomed the guests and explained the purpose of the club.

President Milo Ball, Dean Jay B. MacGregor, Dr. Berthe Koch, Dean William Thompson and J. G. McMillan welcomed the organization to the campus. President Emeritus Rowland Haynes was also present.

Refreshments were served and an unusual centerpiece was created by Jo Thorson of gilded fruits and vegetables.

The officers of the "Brush and Easel" this year are Phil Abramson, chairman; Jo Thorson, vice-chairman, and Elaine Jones, secretary-treasurer.

The "Brush and Easel Art Show" will be held early in February, when members of the club will display their work. Only club members are eligible to enter.

Qualifications for membership into the club include a student being interested in art but not necessarily taking art at this time.

Col. Beck Addresses Angels Flight Meeting

The first evening meeting of the Angels was held yesterday in the faculty club room at the University.

Guests were Col. and Mrs. A. J. Beck. Colonel Beck is at present the Commanding Officer of Offutt Air Force Base and was formerly the Judge Advocate General for Strategic Air Command.

Colonel Beck spoke on the experiences regarding the role played by the wives in the Air Force.

A drill squad is being formulated by the Angels. Cadet Col. Bob Darrah will be in charge.

Zeta Actives Fail In Pledge Chase

"Schmoller and Mueller music is the same as the decapitated trees on Seventy-second Street north from Skunk Street."

This is the last clue received by the active members of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority Tuesday evening when their pledges skipped from the group's meeting.

The first clue, which was phoned in, led to the Mormon Cemetery, where the clue had been hidden under the gate. From there the "hunters" went to Canniglia's, where they had to eat anchovy pizza in order to get the third clue.

This clue took them to the Pax Room where Jean Madden, Zeta active, had to sing "Honey" before Paul Moorehead would release the fourth clue, which concerned Schmoller and Mueller.

The last club, deciphered, meant to count the notes in the Schmoller and Mueller sign, and proceed that number of telephone poles out Center Street to the thirty-sixth pole, climb half way up the pole and untape the last clue. It was just as well that 11 p. m. came

Phi Ep's to Celebrate Annual Founder's Day

Alpha Chi chapter of Phi Epsilon Pi will celebrate the forty-eighth annual Founder's Day with a dinner-dance to be held at the Blackstone Hotel on Saturday, Nov. 29.

An unusual theme and different procedure of decorating is in store for actives, pledges and alumni and their dates at this affair. Harold Novak is in charge of the dance.

On Wednesday, Nov. 26, a stag party will be held at Camp Brewster serving as the kick-off for this Founder's Day weekend. Dave Belzer is in charge of this party.

The regular meeting was held Sunday at the home of Bernie Osheroft.

before the actives got that far. The last clue was written in Russian.

After the deadline, actives and pledges went to the 11-Worth Grill, where the pledges serenaded the active with an original composition before presenting them with a list of duties to perform on Wednesday.

Chem. Students Hold Annual Mixer

The annual Chemistry Mixer last night brought high school and college chemists and Omaha industrial chemists to the University of Omaha for a 7:30 meeting in the student center.

The mixer was sponsored by the department of chemistry, Gamma Pi Sigma, the student affiliate of the Omaha Chapter of the American Chemical Society, and the society's man-power committee.

Speakers for the evening were Dr. Milo Ball, speaking for the committee of '52; Dr. Herbert Ulrich, city smoke abatement engineer; Dr. Donald Findley, Cudahy Research Laboratory, and Dr. Violet Wilder, University of Nebraska College of Medicine.

Chairman Dale Womer arranged for the showing of three short movies, and Omaha chemical firms contributed materials and pamphlets to help acquaint students with the fields of chemical engineering.

Outstanding students of Omaha and Council Bluffs high schools and of Creighton University and Omaha U. were guests.

NOSE, THROAT, and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED
ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields - 10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."
